

LOCAL BREVITIES

David Babbitt returned from a visit to the coast the first of the week.

M. L. Johnson left Wednesday for Hayden where he has purchased a confection business.

Deputy County Assessor Henry Apphold left Wednesday for the coast on a couple weeks' vacation.

W. C. Colcord, a former resident of Flagstaff, now of Roosevelt, spent Sunday in Flagstaff with old friends.

Fred J. Lusk was a business visitor in Kingman a few days this week, returning to Flagstaff Thursday evening.

Mrs. William Rudd and children, with her mother, Mrs. Jones, motored to Tolchaco one day recently, taking a day for the trip.

R. Thompson, manager of the local telephone office, is still confined to his home, but is much better after an illness of over a week.

Cattle Inspector Ed. Hamilton, of Williams, has been in Flagstaff a few days this week inspecting cattle being brought in from the south.

Dr. W. A. Kirsh, of Tucson, has been enjoying the cool atmosphere of the north for several days and may make up his mind to locate here.

The A. H. A. Lodge, a popular organization among the Spanish-speaking people, is arranging for a big dance to be given on the night of July 3.

Allen and Brodie Campbell, sons of Governor Campbell, arrived in Flagstaff the first of the week and are registered at the Normal for the summer school term.

C. W. Miller, the contractor of Pasadena, was a Flagstaff caller on Wednesday and paid a short visit to his uncle-in-law, Dr. Miller.

Si Bendorff, a Flagstaff boy who did his bit overseas, returned the first of the week with an honorable discharge, and was glad to be back here among old scenes again.

Herman Kahl, of the Kahl Drug Co., returned Saturday from a few weeks' visit to his old home in Cincinnati. Mrs. Kahl expects to remain for a month or so longer.

State Engineer Tom Maddock says that the cheapest bid on a 20-foot roadway built of concrete received was $30,000 per mile, and he is under the impression that it can be done a heap cheaper than that.

Marriage license was issued on the 17th by Superior Court Clerk Tom Rees to Jesus Gonzalez and Maria Vanna, both of Williams. The couple was married the same day by Justice of the Peace J. S. Button.

Senator H. E. Campbell is authority for the statement that a fisherman at Mormon Lake captured a bass the other day which measured 19 inches and weighed 7 1/2 pounds. Mormon Lake should be a good place for professionals to fish for the meat markets.

Walter Rummons, who went through a big part of the big scrap overseas and who was the bunkie of Tommy Dent from start to finish, returned this week. He went into the army from Grand Canyon, where he gave up a good job punching cattle to help make the kaiser saw wood.

Mrs. J. T. Rush, of Kirkland, a former resident of Flagstaff, is the guest of Mrs. J. R. Cooper, having arrived in Flagstaff last Monday. Mr. Rush was detained on jury duty at Prescott, but will come up later. Both Mr. and Mrs. Rush expect to make their home at Grand Canyon for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Tillman and their visitors from Logansport, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Shaffer, went to Oak Creek for an outing Sunday, returning the same night.

J. A. Johnson, formerly assistant general manager of the Arizona Lumber & Timber Co., this city, and now engaged in the lumber brokerage business, was a visitor in town last week.

Frank McMann came in from his ranch with his family last week. Frank will stay for a fortnight for some work that requires his attention while the family returned to the ranch the first of the week.

J. P. Kerley, the Indian trader at Tuba City, is visiting his family in Flagstaff this week. Mr. Kerley with his brother Joe, recently purchased the trading post at the Navajo Copper Co. mines from T. A. Riddle. This business will be taken over and run by Joe.

Art Prather, alias "Shorty," has been having a real familiar time with ptomaine poisoning the past week. He lays his lay-off to a collection of salt mackerel, which he had harvested for breakfast, and remarks in passing that he is not half as fond of mackerel now as he used to be.

Claude Ross was a visitor in Flagstaff yesterday. Claude has just returned from France, where he was with the railroad contingent from the United States helping to work the railroads for the boys up in front. He has been given his old job back firing for the Santa Fe out of Winslow west.

Jonathan Jordan, a mining engineer of Tombstone, was the guest of his brother-in-law, Attorney Francis Crable, the first of the week, leaving on Wednesday for his home. Mr. Jordan had been making an expert examination of some mining property in Mohave county.

Mrs. Edith Clark and two children arrived Tuesday for a few days' visit with her sister, Mrs. A. P. McPherson, manager of the local Western Union office. Mrs. Clark is en route to her home in California from a visit in Missouri, and brought young David McPherson home with her.

W. H. Switzer, the hardware man, is announcing with, well, a considerable chestiness, that Miss Marguerite Elaine Switzer arrived at his home on Tuesday at 4:30 p. m., and made a decided hit with the family. Billy avows that this never happened before in his family—not this particular cute baby girl.

Miss Bella Walker, head of the department of English in the Anaheim (Cal.) schools, is the guest of her brother, Prof. J. F. Walker, assistant president of the Normal school, and will remain here for the next few weeks. She came home with Prof. Walker from California the latter part of last week.

Sergeant Cliff J. Kramer, better known to his townful of friends as "Billy," is expected home right soon from Fort Bliss, where he landed next after hitting New York on May 28 from France. He was one of Flagstaff's best, and his genial smile was greatly missed during the long time he has been helping out on the hum problem.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Durham and Mrs. R. L. Neill spent Sunday at Stoneman Lake fishing and visiting Mr. and Mrs. Tom Drum. Mr. Durham says that Stoneman Lake is full of catfish and bass and that they can be caught about as fast as you can bait the hook. There were a number of people there from Clarkdale and the valley towns.

FROM JEROME TO RECUPERATE

Charles Conner, one of the proprietors of the Central Pharmacy, left this morning for Flagstaff, where he will spend several days on a combined business and pleasure trip. The druggist has not been feeling well for several days, and is of the opinion that a few days in the pines will remedy his condition. Mr. Conner also has business connected with the firm to which he will attend while absent.—Jerome News.

FARMERS AND STOCKMEN
WAGE VERY SUCCESSFUL
WAR ON PRAIRIE DOGS

Judging from the splendid results secured in destroying prairie dogs during the past spring drive, it is very evident that the farmers and stockmen of Coconino county are a progressive and alert body of people who are determined to see the prairie dog extermination to a successful climax. This was the statement of D. A. Gilchrist, rodent past director for Arizona, who was in Flagstaff on Thursday.

Mr. Gilchrist has just completed a trip over Coconino county inspecting the prairie dog situation and has conferred with farmers, stockmen and officials in view of carrying out the desires of the people relative to the continued destruction of these harmful pests.

Twenty quarts of poison were given to each farmer during the spring drive. This was prepared from cooperative funds provided by the board of supervisors, the state legislature, and the Biological Survey of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and was distributed by Lewis Irvine, poison expert, and former County Agent De Lore Nichols.

The Coconino Farm Bureau co-operated in a very efficient manner, proving the value of organization and united effort. President Milt Ferrell and Secretary Lewis Johnson, of the latter mentioned bureau, are well pleased over the results, and when consulted Thursday stated that there was not one prairie dog now where there were fifty four years ago, and that on many of the farms the extermination is complete. The net result is the raising of valuable crops which prairie dogs formerly destroyed.

The few prairie dogs remaining refuse to eat the poisoned grain, so carbon bisulphide must be used. This product is being sold by the Farm Bureau at an actual cost of $1.15 per gallon.

People will be pleased to know that Senate Bill No. 15 goes into effect July 1. Under the provisions of this act the state and federal government each contribute $25,000 a year for the next two years to be used for combating rodent pests in Arizona. This in addition to the assistance of the several counties will result in something worth while in the way of practical assistance to the agricultural and live-stock industries of the state. The rodent work will be directed jointly by the Biological Survey and the Extension Service of the University of Arizona. Senate Bill 15 also makes a like provision for the extermination of predatory animals, and this branch of the work will be under joint direction of the Biological Survey and the Live-Stock Sanitary Board.

ELKS BUSY AS BEES ON BIG CELEBRATION JULY 4

from Leupp, the one from Tuba City, and the local band under the direction of Mr. Bergeron. These organizations will occupy both ends and the middle of the monster parade scheduled for the morning of the Fourth of July. Other parts of the parade will consist of G. A. R. veterans, soldiers and sailors of the great war, Navajo and Hopi Indians, and other features.

The immense open-air dance pavilion is now being erected and should be ready in just a few days. Splendid music for the dancing is promised, and the big floor promises to be one of the most popular spots in town.

The auto road race will be for a distance of between 25 and 27 miles around through Schulz Pass and some entries are going in that will make fast time over the road recently improved. The Indians all over this territory are taking great interest and the Navajos and Hopis will be here in droves. They will give some of their dances on the business streets of the city.

Negotiations are now under way for securing the best carnival company that ever made this neck of the woods and they will probably be concluded in the next day or two.

$1,000,000 TUBERCULOSIS
SANITARIUM IN PHOENIX

Stanley Howard, prominent business and church man of Phoenix, was a visitor in town this week, stopping over from a trip to the East to see his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Fay.

Mr. Howard is back of—and says it is going through, too—the establishment of a million dollar tuberculosis sanitarium in Phoenix. It will be national in scope and any sufferer will be admitted but it will be built by and under the auspices of the Methodist Episcopal church.

The movement will be allotted $250,000 from the Centenary fund of millions which is now being raised by that church, and Mr. Howard hopes to get some aid from the Rockefeller foundation. A section of land near Phoenix has already been selected for the purpose.

E. M. BROWN TO LEAVE SOON

The host of friends of the E. M. Brown family will learn with regret that they have sold their attractive home on West Aspen Avenue, and in the near future expect to leave for Los Angeles, where they will reside. This family is one which counts its friends by the score, and in losing it Flagstaff is giving up a family of progressive, substantial and much beloved citizens.

It is understood that Charles Burlock, of San Diego, has bought the home of E. M. Brown and will soon take possession of it.

SCHULZ PASS ROAD IS POPULAR

The Schulz Pass road is proving most popular these beautiful summer days. Last Sunday found many automobile parties as well as several couples on horseback enjoying the scenery and the splendid roads out that way.
